

25X1A9a

PO:

POST: Embassy Tokyo

25X1A9a

REMARKS: [REDACTED] has demonstrated a large measure of good judgement and resourcefulness in developing many informal exchange arrangements between the Department and such organizations as the Public Security Investigation Agency, the Japan Telephone and Telegraph Corporation, the Japan Iron and Steel Federation, etc., whereby materials are received covering broadly both the official and academic communities. The majority of publications issued by such organizations are not available commercially. In addition,

25X1A9a

[REDACTED] close liaison with such U.S. military missions as ACRAPAC and the 6004th AISS has enabled the Department and other USIB Agencies to remain aware of the extent and availability of Communist Far East publications in Japan proper. [REDACTED] commendable performance in the field of publications procurement is even more laudatory in view of the other responsibilities inherent in his geographic attache duties.

25X1A9a

25X1A9a PO: [REDACTED]

25X1A9a POST: Consulate General Hong Kong

25X1A9a REMARKS: [REDACTED] has shown initiative, good judgement and resourcefulness in the selection and acquisition of extremely useful publications forwarded to Washington, and has contributed effectively to the intelligence collection and research programs of the USIB Agencies and other Federal agencies and departments. [REDACTED] efforts have been particularly noteworthy in that he has succeeded in obtaining a significant quantity of vitally needed Chinese mainland publications, in spite of their general unavailability on the open market. His successful negotiations with [REDACTED] 25X1X7

25X1X7 [REDACTED] to acquire certain Chinese mainland publications have been responsible for providing critical

25X1A9a information on this strategic area. [REDACTED] knowledge of the Chinese language and the Communist Chinese political, economic and social conditions qualify him particularly well for this assignment.